Fresher's Hub

Now a days all IT firms are selecting their candidates through various steps. Online screening test is one of them. We can't eliminate this part. After the online screening test, they call the candidates for the interview. Through this system both companies and users can save their time and cost. In this, companies can add the job vacancies.

The objective of this web application is to establish a networking between companies and jobseekers. The jobseeker can also search jobs related to IT field and they can apply for this particular job. The jobseeker or candidates can attend the online aptitude test.

Here, Admin and Company can create aptitude questions and final decision is made by companies.
